RECONSTRUCTION.

Washington, March 18.—As stated immediately attracted the attention of the police, who, anxious for the offered reward, gave close pursuit. The party put spurs to their horses, and Colonel Frank Hybetger, of Governor Senter's staff, have arrived in this city this morning. Colonel Hyberger visited the Executive mansion, and presented to the President dispatches of Which was the bearer, from Governor Senter. The dispatches called the attention of the President to the existence of a condition of lawlessness in Tennessee which was beyond his power to suppress; that the Legislature had repealed the laws giving him the right to call out the militia of the State to suppress violence and disorder, and to authorize a posse of citizens to pursue and arraign criminals; that the operation of Justice hall entirely ceased, and he was estated belore, that after his entrace to the plain, his ecort rode away.
